

1. The first section of the document is a header containing the title "RESEARCH REPORT" and the author's name "J. K. Smith".

2. The second section is the abstract, which summarizes the main findings of the study.

3. The third section is the introduction, which provides background information on the research topic.

4. The fourth section is the methodology, which describes the research design and data collection methods.

5. The fifth section is the results, which presents the findings of the study.

6. The sixth section is the discussion, which interprets the results and discusses their implications.

7. The seventh section is the conclusion, which summarizes the main points of the report.

8. The eighth section is the references, which lists the sources used in the research.

9. The ninth section is the appendix, which contains supplementary information related to the study.

10. The tenth section is the index, which provides a quick reference to the various parts of the document.

